

MB Media Office Issues Its 'Official Media-2023' Book

The Muslim Brotherhood (MB) has issued a documentary book that includes the MB publications throughout 2023 AD / 1444/1445 AH, titled "Official Media Book-2023". The book brings together a harvest of statements, press releases, messages, and televised speeches that were published on the Muslim Brotherhood's official website, tackling the group's affairs and its interactions with issues of concern, locally, regionally, and internationally, through which the MB expressed its positions and recorded active presence in various events.

These publications handled the internal affairs of the Brotherhood, as well as the inauguration of Muslim Brotherhood Acting General Guide Dr Salah Abdel-Haq. They also tackled the Egyptian affair in general, the human rights and detainees in particular. Through these publications, the group recorded a significant presence in facing incidents of the abuse of the Holy Quran and in following up on Operation Al-Aqsa Flood and the war on Gaza and its repercussions.

The book includes publications in Arabic, noting that a translation into English of the group's statements and press releases has been published on the MB official website. Among the aims of publishing this documentary book is to facilitate access to the content of these publications compiled together, to serve those interested in studying the Brotherhood's discourse, including researchers, media professionals, politicians, and decision-makers.

On the other hand, the group has decided to reissue the "Al-Dawa Magazine" once again to be an addition to its official media; and the trial issue of the magazine has already been published, hoping –with the start of the new year– to regularly publish the magazine on a monthly basis. And Allah is the arbiter of success.
